WELCOME

On behalf of SHUKALB and SHUKOS, we are pleased to invite you to join us at our 13th Balkans Joint Conference and Exhibition, taking place from 11–13 November 2025, in the coastal city of Durres, Albania, at the Grand Blue Fafa Resort.

The theme of the 2025 Conference, “Sustainable Water Management in a Changing Climate,” shines a spotlight on one of the most pressing environmental challenges of our time. Climate change is already transforming the availability, quality, and distribution of water—disrupting ecosystems and threatening the sustainability of communities across the region.

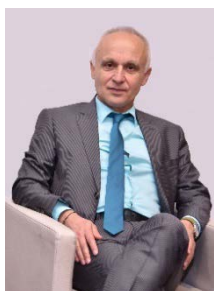

Sustainable water management is becoming increasingly important as the Balkan countries are growing more vulnerable to the effects of climate change, experiencing more frequent extreme weather events. At the same time, many utilities in the region continue to struggle with aging systems, high water losses, and limited capacity to respond to these challenges, making it more difficult to deliver water supply and wastewater services.

As Balkan countries leap toward EU integration, water utilities encounter a critical test: meeting the EU water and climate change directives. Utilities must understand and adjust to a new set of rules, modernize outdated infrastructure to comply with higher environmental standards, and secure significant investments to support these changes. On the other hand, the shift towards advanced technologies and climate-resilient practices demands new skills, stronger institutions, and greater operational capacities. By facing these challenges head-on, utilities can turn these pressures into progress and ability to adapt to a rapidly changing climate.

The Balkans Joint Conference and Exhibition has firmly established itself as a premier knowledge-sharing and networking event within the Western Balkans water sector. Welcoming over 500 participants from the Greater Balkans Region, Europe, and around the world, the Conference provides a dynamic platform for water professionals, policymakers, and industry experts to engage in meaningful dialogue, exchange expertise, and share best practices. This spirit of collaboration fuels innovation and drives progress in the water and wastewater sectors both regionally and globally.

In parallel, the Organizing Committee has planned a large-scale Equipment, Technology, and Services Exhibition. The exhibition will showcase a diverse array of private sector companies working in the water sector throughout the Balkans Region. Attendees will have the opportunity to explore the latest innovations, technologies, and services designed to support sustainable water management and climate adaptation.

We look forward to welcoming you to the 2025 Joint Conference, where we will come together in our shared commitment to securing a sustainable water future for the Greater Balkans in the face of a changing climate.

President
